This guide gives you all the information you need to understand the London Borough of Havering property licensing schemes and how to make a property licence application.

The London Borough of Havering has 2 types of licensing scheme;

1) Mandatory Licence - All HMO’s with 5 or more people in the borough must have a licence.

2) Additional Licence which is required for all HMOs which;
   - have 3 or 4 people and
   - have more than one household and
   - are located in the following 12 wards
   - Brooklands
   - Elm Park
   - Gooshays
   - Harold Wood
   - Havering Park
   - Heaton
   - Mawneys
   - Pettits
   - Rainham & Wennington
   - Romford Town
   - Squirrels Heath
   - South Hornchurch
What if I don’t get a licence?

Failure to have the correct HMO licence may result in landlords and/or managing agents being prosecuted and subject to an unlimited fine or being issued with a fixed penalty notice of up to £30,000. They can have control of their unlicensed properties taken away from them, and could also be made to repay any rents they have received from their tenants.

The following section provides general information on Mandatory and Additional licensing and the definition of a House in multiple Occupation (HMO). Please go to the next section for guidance on completing the application form.

Mandatory HMO Licensing

(Mandatory houses in multiple occupation (HMO) licensing under part 2 of the Housing Act 2004 applies to all HMOs that are occupied by five or more persons living in two or more households.)

If your property meets the criteria above you should apply for a licence under part 2 of the Housing Act 2004 immediately. This applies to all areas of the borough.

For the property to be used as an HMO, it must have the correct planning use class, and you may be required to apply for the planning class of the property to be changed from C3 (dwelling house) to C4 (house in multiple occupation). There is no guarantee that this will be granted and the planning requirement remains separate to property licensing requirement.

You must apply for a licence even if you do not have the correct planning use. If you rent a property as an HMO without a licence you could be prosecuted or fined.

N.B. The licence fee is not refundable if you are later refused planning permission for change of use.
Some examples of properties to be licensed:

- Any house or flat with five (or more) occupants living as two (or more) separate households, sharing amenities.
- A two storey flat above a shop with three rooms rented to three couples sharing amenities.

Additional Licensing

The additional licensing scheme for houses in multiple occupation (HMOs) require all landlords who let a property that is occupied by 3 or more non-related occupiers that are sharing some basic facilities or amenities such as a kitchen or bathroom to have a licence.

The additional licensing scheme covers 12 wards which are: Brooklands, Elm Park, Gooshays, Harold Wood, Havering Park, Heaton, Mawneys, Pettits, rainham & Wennington, Romford Town, South Hornchurch and Squirrels Heath. If the property is in one of these wards it will require an additional licence.

If your property meets the criteria above you must apply for a licence.
Some converted properties located in the 12 wards will also require a licence.

Converted Properties (known as 257 HMOs)

If the building is a house which has been converted entirely into self-contained flats the conversion will be regarded by local housing authorities as an HMO if:

- it was converted before the 1991 Building Regulations came into force, and if it has not been subsequently improved to at least the 1991 Building Regulations standard, and
- more than one third of the flats are let out on shorthold tenancies.

In addition, the building will be a 257 HMO if:

- the building was improperly converted without Building Regulations approval either before or after the 1991 Building Regulations deadline and it still does not comply with those standards.

One of the ways in which this can be determined is by checking the date on the building control certificate or the date that the leases were granted. If the date is before 1st June 1992, then it is reasonable to assume that the conversion works were carried out to the previous standard, not the 1991 standard.

Planning Consent

For the property to be used as an HMO, it must have the correct planning use class, and you may be required to apply for the planning class of the property to be changed from C3 (dwelling house) to C4 (house in multiple occupation).

Please Note: There is no guarantee that this will be granted and the planning requirement remains separate to the property licensing requirement.

You must apply for a licence even if you do not have the correct planning use. If you rent a property as an HMO without a licence you could be prosecuted or fined.

An example of properties to be licensed:

- A two storey house rented to 6 occupants living as three households sharing amenities
- Additional licence required
Exemptions

In some cases properties maybe exempt from the requirements of licensing under part 2 of the Housing Act. The following list gives those exemptions.

- Buildings controlled or managed by a Local Housing Authority.
- Buildings controlled or managed by registered social landlords and housing providers.
- Buildings controlled or managed by Police.
- Buildings controlled or managed by fire brigade.
- Buildings controlled or managed by Health Service Body.
- Buildings regulated by other enactments.
- Certain university/college accommodation occupied by students.
- Buildings occupied by religious communities (except section 257 HMO’s).
- Any building occupied by two persons who form two households.

If you think that your property is exempt from the requirement of licensing please contact us.

What is a HMO?

A house in multiple occupation (HMO) is a property that is occupied by 3 or more unrelated individuals/households who share facilities such as a kitchen or bathroom, or do not have exclusive occupation of the whole property.

For example, HMOs can commonly be occupied by a group of individuals sharing a house or flat, individuals living in bedsit accommodation, and some properties that have been converted into several flats.

Bed and breakfast and hostel accommodation occupied by individuals as their main and permanent address are also considered to be HMO.

A house in multiple occupation is defined by the Housing Act 2004. There are four tests that define what a HMO is:

1. The standard test: Any building which consists of one or more units of accommodation which are not self-contained and where two or more households share one or more basic amenities, or where the accommodation is lacking basic amenities.

2. The self-contained flat test: Any part of a building which is a self-contained flat, which consists of one or more units of accommodation, in which two or more households share one or more basic amenities or where the accommodation is lacking basic amenities.

3. The converted building test: Any building, which has been converted and contains one or more units of accommodation which are not self-contained (whether or not the building also consists of some self-contained units).

4. Certain converted blocks of flats: Any building which has been converted into and consists of self-contained flats only, and it does not comply with the 1991 Building Regulations and less than two thirds of the flats are owner occupied, (more than one third on short tenancies).

FAQ Application Form

Type of Application

Type of Application – unless you are renewing your mandatory licence you should choose ‘new application’

Please refer to the guidance above on the difference between a mandatory HMO and Additional HMO

Who can apply for a licence?

Anyone can apply for a property licence; usually the applicant will be the owner or manager employed by the owner. However, the licence holder must be the most appropriate person.

Proposed Licence holder

The proposed licence holder needs to be the most appropriate person, namely the landlord, person in receipt of rent or in control of the property. If it is a limited company please give the full company name and address of a UK registered office and listed director who will be the proposed licence holder. At the very least, the council expects the licence holder to have the power to:

- Let and terminate the tenancies.
- Access all parts of the premises to the same extent as the owner.

Interested Parties

The council also requires details of all interested parties involved in the ownership or management of the property this must be provided at the time of application.

Details of any mortgages on the property are also required as the Council will have to write to all mortgagees with details of the draft licence.

Licence Conditions

The standard conditions to be attached to the licence can be found at the end of this document Appendix 1.

Fit and Proper Person

Are you a fit and proper person?

In order to obtain a private rented property licence the applicant will need to demonstrate that they are a ‘fit and proper’ person. This will involve making a declaration to confirm their status with regards to criminal offences. In determining whether an applicant is ‘fit and proper’ the council must take into account any evidence found that the person applying for a licence has:

- Committed any offence involving fraud or other dishonesty, violence, drugs and certain sexual offences.
- Practised unlawful discrimination on the ground of sex, colour, race, ethnic or national origins or disability in connection with any business.
- Contravened any provision of the law relating to housing or landlord and tenant law.

The applicant must also be able to demonstrate satisfactory management and financial arrangements are in place for each rented property. Failure to meet the fit and proper person test may result in an application for a licence being refused or a reduced duration of a licence.

Further information on unspent convictions can be found at;

The London Borough of Havering offers a discount of £35 per licence, if the licence holder is an accredited landlord. To qualify you must provide your accreditation number and the date you became accredited from at least one of the schemes listed.

Gas Safety Certificate

A current gas safety certificate is one that is less than 12 months old

Number of Storeys in a property

When counting the number of storey’s in the building you need to include:

- Basement and attics if they are occupied or have been converted for occupation by residents or if they are in use in connection with the occupation of the HMO by residents.
- Any storey’s which are occupied by you and your family if you are a resident landlord.
- All the storey’s in residential occupation, even if they are self-contained.
- Any business premises or storage space on the ground floor or any upper floor.

Households

‘Households’ for the purposes of the Housing Act 2004 includes members of the same family living together who are:

- Couples married to each other or living together as husband and wife (or in an equivalent relationship in the case of persons of the same sex).
- Relatives living together, including parents, grandparents, children (and step-children), grandchildren, brothers, sisters, uncles, aunts, nephews, nieces or cousins.
• Half-relatives are treated as full relatives.
• A foster child living with his foster parents is treated as living in the same household as his foster parent.

Habitable Rooms

How many habitable rooms are there and sizes?
This means rooms that are, or could be, used for sleeping accommodation. Not bathrooms, kitchens or undersized rooms.

The size of the rooms will determine how many people are permitted to occupy the property.

Tenancies

The most common tenancies are Assured shorthold tenancies (ASTs)

A regulated tenancy is a long-term tenancy with a private landlord. The tenant probably has a regulated tenancy if the tenancy started before 15 January 1989.

Tenants Deposit Schemes

A landlord must put a tenants deposit in a government-backed tenancy deposit scheme (TDP) if it is an assured shorthold tenancy that started after 6 April 2007. In England and Wales the deposit can be registered with:

- Deposit Protection Service
- MyDeposits - including deposits that were held by Capita
- Tenancy Deposit Scheme

Licence term

The council aims to work with landlords to licence their properties within a timely manner. Licences can last up to 5 years. Where the Council has determined that there is cause for concern regarding premises or management arrangements, or requests to apply for licensing have not been responded to in a timely manner, or there are significant council tax arrears (where the landlord is the liable person) the council may determine that the licence should be granted for a shorter period.

Any application requiring to be renewed or a re-application as a result of the Council revoking the licence will be dealt with as a new application and will be charged at the standard rate.

Tacit consent does not apply to applications made for a property licence.
How to Apply for a Licence

In order to improve efficiency and reduce costs all applications must be made electronically, other than in exceptional circumstances. Please visit our website to make an online application: www.havering.gov.uk/landlordlicence

If you are unable to make an online application or if you need assistance please contact us in the first instance by telephone on 01708 432777 or by email: landlordlicensing@havering.gov.uk so we can discuss other ways in which you can apply. Please note the Council may impose an additional charge for paper-based applications.

Right of Appeal

The Environmental Protection and Housing team (EPH) will work hard to support applicants throughout the application process and to assist you in the meeting the criteria in order to qualify for a licence.

If a landlord feels that the council has made a decision that is unfair, in the first instance we would request that they contact the EPH team at the council on 01708 432777 so that we can explain the reasons for our decision and hopefully resolve the problem. If however, the landlord still feels that the council has acted unfairly by:

1. Refusing to grant a licence.
2. Imposing certain conditions on a licence.
3. A decision to vary a licence.
4. A decision to revoke a licence.

The landlord can appeal to the Residential Property Tribunal (RPT). The RPT is an expert independent tribunal that act in the same way as the County Court to confirm, vary or overturn the council’s decision.

If you wish to make a complaint about the service you have received you can either visit the Council’s website for details on how to make a corporate complaint.
Appendix 1:

Additional Licensing Conditions
This Appendix contains the conditions that would form part of an additional HMO property licence.

Some of the conditions are mandatory; and the Housing Act 2004 requires the council to insert them.

The 2004 Act also gives the council discretion to insert further conditions, for example to control occupancy, to help reduce anti-social behaviour, to safeguard the health and safety of occupants and to ensure good management practices.

Financial Management

35) No person other than the licence holder or the agent named on the licence may collect and receive rental monies from the occupants of the property. The licence holder and/or agent may pass on the rental monies to any third parties as required.

36) Where rents are collected or received from occupants, the licence holder must ensure that the payment is recorded and that the occupants receive a receipt for the payment, unless the occupant is an assured shorthold tenant and pays their rent via bank standing order or direct debit. The licence holder must keep a copy of all such records and receipts and must provide the council with a copy of the same within 28 days of any request to inspect them.

36a) The licence holder shall protect any deposit taken under an assured short-hold tenancy by placing it in a statutory tenancy deposit scheme. The tenant must be given the prescribed information about the scheme being used at the time the deposit is taken. This information must be provided to the Council within 28 days on demand.

37) With the exception of properties that have been converted into self-contained units that have been separately banded for council tax purposes, management of the council tax account for the property shall remain the liability of the licence holder and, if requested, the licence holder must, within 28 days, provide the council with written details of the arrangements made to pay and settle the annual council tax liability in respect of the property.

General Conditions

38) The licence holder must ensure that suitable arrangements are in place to enable the council to access the property at any reasonable time of the day, upon reasonable notice, and must not obstruct Council officers in the performance of their statutory duties, including surveying the property to ensure compliance with licence conditions and relevant legislation.

39) The licence holder must provide the council, within 28 days of any request for the same, with such particulars as may be specified in the notice concerning the occupation of the house, including without limitation:

a) the names and numbers of individuals and households in the property, and the rooms they occupy; and
b) the number of individuals in each household.

Limitations of Licence

40) LICENCE TRANSFER This licence is not transferable and may NOT be transferred to another person, organisation or property.

41) REGISTERED COMPANIES If the licence holder is a registered company and is dissolved while the licence is in force, the licence ceases to be in force on the date of dissolution.

42) PLANNING PERMISSIONS This licence does NOT grant any planning approvals, consents or permissions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 or any related planning legislation, retrospectively or otherwise.
You must ensure that, if necessary, the correct planning permissions are given to use the property as a House in Multiple Occupation (HMO). Failure to do so may be a breach of planning control.

This licence does not offer any protection against or excuse for enforcement action taken by the Planning Department. If you are unclear about the matters outlined above, you should seek professional planning advice.

43) BUILDING CONTROL This licence does NOT grant any Building Regulations approvals, certification, consent or permissions, retrospectively or otherwise. This licence does not offer any protection against or excuse for enforcement action taken by the Building Control Department.

44) PROPERTY CONDITION This licence is NOT proof that the property is safe and free from hazards and defects. The licence does not prevent legal action being taken against the licence holder, or anyone else with an interest in the property, in the criminal and/or civil courts if any hazards or nuisances are found, or any other problems discovered in relation to the condition of the property.

It is not the responsibility of the London Borough of Havering to ensure the property is compliant with the above limitations.

45) PROSECUTION/ CONTRAVENTIONS CONSEQUENCES Please note that any prosecution or enforcement action, or legal action taken against the licence holder or anyone associated with licence holder, or the management of the property, may affect the licence holder’s status as a ‘fit and proper’ person to hold a licence. The council can revoke or vary the licence at any time, giving proper statutory notice.

46) CONSUMER RIGHTS & UNFAIR PRACTICES The licence holder must ensure that any tenancy agreement he or she uses is free from unfair terms and complies with all legal requirements under consumer law, including the Consumer Rights Act 2015. Licence holders should carefully read the Competition and Markets Authority (CMA) ‘Unfair Contract Terms Guidance’ (CMA37) and follow this guidance when conducting their business, drawing up tenancies, contracts, or serving notices on tenants and/or agents.

It is also recommended that licence holders refer to the ‘Guidance on Unfair Terms in Tenancy Agreements’ (OFT356) which, though not up to date in terms of legal developments since publication in 2005, remains a useful guide to type of tenancy terms that are potentially ‘unfair’.
The licence holder must act in good faith at all times and must not take any action, or omit to do anything, which might be considered a 'misleading action' or a 'misleading omission', as defined by the Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations 2008. The licence holder must provide prospective tenants with information about the same, including the details of this licence.

Licence holders must ensure that all goods supplied as part of a letting of furnished, residential accommodation are safe, including gas and electrical installations and appliances.

PENALTY FOR BREACH OF LICENCE CONDITIONS

Failure to comply with any of the above licence conditions may result in enforcement action, as described above, and/or prosecution. The fine for a breach of licence condition is UNLIMITED for each offence.
